

UMSN Gateways Fellows

The Nursing Gateways Fellowship offers current School of Nursing students who are in the BSN program or any UMSN Master's degree program an opportunity to learn more about our doctoral programs (DNP and PhD) as well as other graduate or certificate program options. It is never too early or late to think about the DNP or PhD! While learning about these programs and their requirements, Gateways Fellows develop research and scholarly projects on a range of topics of their interest. Gateways Fellows receive scholarships, are matched with a faculty mentor based on their interests, participate in educational seminars, participate in an inclusive and supportive learning community with peers, and present their research and scholarly projects at the end of the program to other fellows and program mentors. The aim of this program is to promote innovation by diversifying the pipeline to graduate school. All Bachelor's and Master's degree seeking students are eligible to apply.

Participant benefits

- Book scholarships for courses and fellowship research of up to $1,500 to be dispersed over two semesters of participation.
- Advanced research and scholarly writing experience.
- Workshops on pathways to graduate school at UMSN and beyond.
- Highly individualized academic support and personal coaching from UMSN faculty and staff.
- Peer feedback and support.
